

Daly City Seen as a 'Force to Be Reckoned With'

By FRANK LA PIERRE

Daly City flexed her expanding muscles during the past year and indicated, through several programs, she would be a force to be "reckoned with" in the future of San Mateo County.

Although construction did not enjoy a "boom year" in the county's second largest city, officials decided to undertake an ambitious General Plan that will guide them for the next decade.

The City Council, with Mayor Bernard Lyett holding the reins, named a 54-member blue ribbon panel of Daly City citizens to offer ideas and recommendations to the professional planning consultant firm of Livingston and Blayney for the plan.

The General Plan will attack questions relating to land uses, traffic flow patterns throughout the city, public facilities, civic designs and special study areas.

Final steps on the plan, which cost a total of $105,000 (paid for on a share basis with the federal, state and local governments) were expected to be made in early spring.

One of the biggest steps the city took during 1967 was one mile long — from Wellington Avenue to Sullivan Avenue.

The city staff vacated their cramped 14,800 square-foot quarters on Wellington in favor of the spacious 60,000 square foot, $3 million Civic Center which houses police, public works and the city's ever-increasing city staff.

Designed to provide sufficient room for the city administration for the next two decades, the Civic Center of neo-classic design is considered the most modern on the Peninsula.

And while Daly City is still at loggersheads with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District over what type of design the transit terminus station will finally take upon completion, BARTD has assured the city the station will be constructed along with the rest of the 75 mile-long system.

Most controversial matter to come before the council concerned adoption of two new ordinances — an S-I Design Review Board and the Commercial Office (CO) zoning law.

The first (S-I) would regulate exterior designs and colors of buildings to be constructed in specified areas of the city. The CO ordinance was expected to protect the area surrounding the new Civic Center.

Coupled together, the two new laws would add to the development and values of the lands in areas designated for that use, according to officials.

Landowners and some developers protested the new laws and, after several hearings on the matter, both ordinances were amended and passed.

Another controversial matter spearheaded by the city, and backed by most members of the North County Council of Cities, was the election of supervisors by district rather than at-large. The move was killed by the Board of Supervisors following a year-long series of hearings on the matter by a panel appointed by the supervisors.

The city chalked up a couple of "wins" during the eventful year of 1967: They won a suit for $17,000 against the PG&E company and a special night was named in their honor during the 1967 Grand National Livestock Show at the Cow Palace.

Daly City had filed the suit against PG&E for failure on the part of the company to maintain certain utility poles in the city as agreed. The matter was settled out of court.

Recognition of the city's growth came from an unexpected source — the Cow Palace — when television personality Eddie Albert was named "mayor of Daly City" and celebrated the occasion with a special night for the city.

But while the city took many positive steps forward, in at least one case it could not make up its mind which way to go.

The city fathers unanimously agreed, under the urging of Councilman Frank Pacelli, to withdraw from the Association of Bay Area Governments — the first such case of any city deciding to leave the regional planning organization.

While rounds of applause and letters of support were being received in City Manager Edward Frank's office, the city was "forced" to re-enter the organization or face the possibility of being cut off from certain federal funds.

Pacelli informed the council the city might not receive needed monies to pursue development plans and suggested the resignation be withdrawn. The city re-entered ABAG.

More than one Daly City resident was rattled when it was suggested a portion of Westlake be chopped from San Mateo County and put into San Francisco's Congressional District under the proposed reapportionment law. The recommendation was dropped and Daly City remained intact — at least until 1970 when the matter is scheduled to be brought up again.

Major steps were taken during 1967 to improve the appearance of the city, including planting of street trees, park landscaping projects and landscaping a round city playgrounds, water system facilities, and along the new Junipero Serra Freeway.

Another link of the modern Junipero Serra Freeway, south of East Moor Avenue, was opened, joining Daly City directly with South San Francisco and San Bruno.

In addition to the city's annual $70,000 program of street repaving, several new major street projects were undertaken, including Southgate Avenue extension, and Sullivan Avenue extension — both opened to traffic, thus providing improved (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

CITIZENS' PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT

Recreation In Daly City

By FRANK LA PIERRE

Daly City's present parks and recreation areas are not adequate to provide for the present population — much less for the next two decades — a citizens' committee formed to study the matter revealed recently.

In their report, the committee, headed by Louis Larcombe, said expansion of all recreational and park facilities within the city would be desirable.

Six swimming pools should be constructed in Bayshore City, Lincoln Park, Westlake Park, Westmoor High School, Serramonte and Crocker Estates, if the latter is annexed to Daly City.

In addition to the pools, multi-purpose gymnasiums should be built in Serramonte, Bayshore City, Westlake Park and the area of Knowles between Mission and Junipero Serra Freeway — adjacent to the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit station.

Immediate attention should be given to provide a three and a half acre park, with a baseball diamond and other recreational facilities for younger children, in the Bayshore section of the city, the committee reported.

The city's recreation program would receive a big boost if some school facilities were available to the public after normal school hours, the committee pointed out.

"If these recreational areas were available, it would help the city's recreation program tremendously," the report stated.

Three areas the committee thought should be preserved from development "because of their natural beauty" were the top of San Bruno Mountain, the ocean shoreline from Thornton Beach to Mussel Rock and the Lake Merced Golf Course.

Development of the shoreline for public recreation, with permanent stairs leading to Thornton Beach proper from the parking area, was recommended.

A 100-acre public golf course should be built on the top of San Bruno Mountain.

"This would satisfy a great demand by our citizens and would also be a profitable venture for the city," the report noted.

The five member subcommittee, composed of Larcombe, Ann Eason, Anna Gage, Julius Michaelis and Jane Powell, further recommended that new recreation facilities not be located adjacent to present schools.

This would give the city additional recreational facilities in more areas, the report explained.

A convention center, with a seating capacity of at least 2,000 persons should likewise be built in Daly City. The huge auditorium could be used for musical shows, sports events and banquets, in addition to conventions, the committee suggested.

In summation, the report noted that each of the subcommittee's recommendations would expand existing programs within the city's recreational areas.

"The last 25 years have brought such vast changes in Daly City that the next 25 years should be planned for with additional expansion of recreational facilities in all areas," the report concluded.

COUNTY MAYORS

Hike in Bus Fares Is Hit

Members of the Council of Mayors of San Mateo County, unanimously went on record as opposing an application for Western Greyhound lines before the state Public Utilities Commission that would increase commute rates anywhere from 40 to 140 per cent.

Mayor Grace McCarthy of Pacifica, the city proposing the resolution, explained that the bus line is actually asking that commute rates be eliminated and be replaced by single fare rates.

The resolution described the company's request as "inordinate and unconscionable," and said approval would force people into their own cars, increasing traffic congestion and accidents.

The resolution maintained that if the fare increase is granted, great personal hardships would be created, and students using Greyhound buses going to school would suffer extreme financial hardships.

According to the resolution, the transit company's commute operation is now economically feasible.

The mayors heard a report from Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan that a day-long meeting will be held Saturday, March 2, for local governmental officials at which prominent speakers such as Jacques Costeau, famed

Auto Slams Into House After Chase

A Pacifica roofer was arrested in Burlingame early Monday for drunken driving and several other charges after allegedly ramming a police car, nearly slamming into two police officers, and finally careening his high-powered auto into a house.

Officer Ed Beaver reports he was patrolling southward on Al Camino Real at 3:50 a.m. when he saw Thomas R. Henry, 1969 Rosita Road, Pacifica, driving southward also.

Officer Beaver said Henry's "GTO" model auto was weaving violently from lane to lane, and he pulled up behind it at the Trousdale Avenue traffic light, and switched on his red spotlight.

As he did, the officer said, the traffic light turned green, and Henry's car sped away, passing another car on the right and reaching speeds of 60 miles per hour before turning right on Alameda Way, speeding to 50 miles an hour until making a left turn on Davis Avenue. The car, Beaver said, hit 60 again and sped through an arterial stop sign at Sequoia Avenue, then turned left into Valdivia Way.

Valdivia dead-ends in a T-shaped court, and Henry's

Lots of New For Pacifica

By WILL E. THOMAS

There's been a lot of new in the old year in Pacifica but there won't be a lot of old in the new one.

The scenic coastal community's Tenth Anniversary year saw new faces and the start of new projects.

D. C. Police Safeguard Mink Stole

Somewhere there's a woman who must have had a real "ball" three weeks ago in Daly City.

Not only did she leave her mink stole behind at the Westlake Lounge, but she has apparently forgotten where she was because she hasn't been back to claim it.

After holding the stole for three weeks, managers of the lounge decided to turn it over to Daly City police for safekeeping.

City government entered a new era of personalities with Bill Masonheimer becoming city manager early in the year, replacing Karl Baldwin who quit for foreign service late in 1966 after shepherding the young city through its formative years.

Attorney Daniel Modena took a seat at the city council table, elected to succeed veteran Jim Fox, a former mayor who sold his hardware store and moved to Shasta County.

Bill Chapman moved into the city's public works department as a temporary consultant and acting city engineer, when long-time Pacifican Ken Thompson shifted to a Nevada community as city manager.

Chapman will remain a consulting engineer until a replacement for Thompson is selected in 1968.

Bob Keyes in recent weeks has been named planning director.

In 1968 there will be a few other new faces. One will be John Grindrod, who will come from Ontario, January 22, to become director of finance.

And there will be a new city (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

BURGLARY CHARGES

D.C. Pastor Calls 'Frame'

Robbery charges against four youths, dismissed last Wednesday on insufficient evidence, have been refiled, Deputy District Attorney John E. Juergens said.

The decision to take up the prosecution again followed a public charge by a Daly City minister that the boys had been "framed" by Daly City police.

The Rev. Howard A. Bryant, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, asserted at a meeting in East Palo Alto Wednesday night that the youths had been arrested for the robbery only because they had dared to speak out about "police harassment."

"We are indebted to Pastor Bryant for providing the spur for us to re-evaluate the case," Juergens said today.

Juergens explained that he asked Wednesday that the robbery charges be dismissed because the victims said they could not identify the suspects in the courtroom. The deputy said he was informed by Daly City police later, however, that when the victims saw the defendants standing up after the brief court session, they realized that they could identify two of them.

Although he had a circumstantial case against the suspects, Juergens said, he felt he had no choice but to ask for the dismissal when the victims said they did not see the suspects in the courtroom.

The circumstantial evidence, Juergens said, includes the finding of the contents of a wallet taken in the robbery in the suspects' car, which was stopped less than a mile from the robbery.

D.C. Leader Henry Sundermann Dies

Henry Sundermann Sr., long time Daly City civic leader known for his cheerful disposition and many contributions to the growth of the city, died December 28 in San Francisco. He was 88 years old.

Mr. Sundermann came to the United States from his homeland of Bremen, Germany, in 1893, when he was 13, alone and unable to speak English.

In 1906 he started working for the Portland Dairy and later joined the Dairy Delivery Company when it was first organized by John D. Daly and other businessmen in the city. The company was later bought by the present Borden Company.

When he retired in 1950, Sundermann was the credit manager for the firm.

South S.F., Daly City Are Chided

Negro leaders in San Mateo County are divided on the question of whether a county human relations commission that would have no enforcement powers would do any good.

Testimony given last week to a blue ribbon study committee headed by County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald indicated general agreement that a commission with powers to issue orders to correct grievances is needed.

Some speakers felt, however, that an agency without such powers would be useless, while others asserted that it would still provide a vital forum for the airing of civil rights grievances.

Fitzgerald's committee is conducting a series of hearings to determine whether a commission should be established and, if so, how it should be composed. The hearing last week was held at Kavanagh School in East Palo Alto.

The supervisor and members of his study group explained the problem about enforcement: the state has pre-empted the field of civil rights and law enforcement in the field is reserved by the state; a county commission would have the right to make investigations and issue subpoenas, but would not have the power to issue orders; it could, however, turn the results of its (Please See Page 2, Column 1) investigations over to the state for enforcement.

Among those who spoke out in favor of a civil rights commission was Albert Waters of South San Francisco, representing the Fair Housing Action Group of South San Francisco, San Bruno and Millbrae.

Waters chided South San Francisco officials for failure to have a representative at a previous hearing of Fitzgerald's group scheduled to hear city representatives. The speaker said his group made a proposal for a civil rights organization to the city council last February and is still waiting for a reply.

Waters declared that a county commission, even without enforcement powers, "would provide a forum where people can take their grievances to be dealt with."

"The problem in South San Francisco," Waters told the committee, "is racism."

He recalled the fight for open housing in the Serramonte subdivision that his group waged a year ago and said the group had to appeal to agencies in San Francisco for help because there was none in San Mateo County to turn to.

The Rev. Howard A. Bryant, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Daly City, said he favors the formation of city civil rights commissions, as well as a county agency. He said a group he heads, called "Community Interaction Thru You," has been trying since 1965 to get the city council to establish a human relations commission.

Bryant scoffed at published reports quoting city officials as saying there are no serious racial problems in Daly City. He declared that there are problems and that they will become crucial unless steps are taken to deal with them.

He noted that a city spokesman denied at a previous hearing that a ghetto exists in Daly City.

"There is a ghetto already formed in Daly City," Bryant declared, "because of the block-busting tactics of unscrupulous real estate men."

Among those who spoke out against a county commission without enforcement powers was Mrs. Gertrude Wilks, one of the most active civil rights workers in the black community of East Palo Alto. Without such powers, she said, the commission would be "nothing but another Human Resources Commission," the agency that administers federal anti-poverty projects in San Mateo County.

"I served for two years on the Human Resources Commission in an advisory capacity," Mrs.

Wilks commented, "and nobody asked me anything."

Mrs. Wilks declared that an effective civil rights commission would have to have enforcement powers and money to spend to correct problems. For example, she told the committee, it should have funds to improve the educational system in East Palo Alto.

Mrs. Wilks was the organizer of the "Sneak Out" program in which black children are taken into white homes in Santa Clara County so that they do not have to attend schools in East Palo Alto.

very scene a few minutes after the holdup.

The defendants are James Wheeler, 19, and Larry Shaw, Charles Bradford and James Williams, all 18.

The robbery took place December 16 at the Shakespeare Grocery Store, 100 Shakespeare Avenue, which is owned by Mansueto L. Cardenti. Taken was $40 in cash from the wallet of Cardenti's son, Frank. The contents of the wallet were found in the car at the time of the arrest, police said.

Bryant charged that the boys were accused of the crime because three of them had spoken out at a school meeting against "harassment" by Lt. Phil LaBruzzi, community relations officer for the Daly City Police Department. The minister said the evidence was that the boys were home watching television at the time of the robbery.

Juergens said he decided to re-evaluate the case after learning of Bryant's assertions, with the result that new charges will be filed. He said it is "obvious" that there was no frame-up and added this about Lt. LaBruzzi: "He has my utmost confidence. You couldn't find a nicer guy."

A police department spokesman called Bryant's charges "ridiculous" and said the lieutenant had spent a lot of his own time and money in an effort to improve relations between Daly City juveniles and the police.

Several projects were launched in the past year. Late starters were two state tasks—installation of signals on Coast Highway at the Rockaway Beach intersection and construction of a pedestrian overpass that will connect western Sharp Park residents with Eureka Square on the east side of the Coast Highway—both to be completed in 1968.

The Palmetto Avenue improvement job began to provide curbs and gutters and a better street surface, amidst expressions of anger from some citizens because someone left utility poles and a fire hydrant in the middle of a welcome sidewalk.

Pacifica also is happy with the completion and dedication of a new park in Fairmont West. But a lot of the city government's accomplishments have auto turned into the right-hand arm of the T, Beaver said.

Riding with Beaver was Cadet Gerald McDonnell, son of San Mateo Police Chief Martin McDonnell, and as Henry's car reached the dead-end of the court, Cadet McDonnell and Officer Beaver stepped out.

Beaver reports that Henry's auto came slowly back down the street, then suddenly sped up and swung around the patrol car, missing Cadet McDonnell by inches.

Then the car roared down the other end of the arm of the "T," turned around, and sped back as Officers Tom Chase and James O'Brien tried to blockade it with another patrol car.

The elusive suspect crashed into the patrol car, ripping its right front fender, and brushing Officer Chase aside.

Officer Chase fired three shots into the ground, in an attempt to convince the driver he should halt, but the auto roared away, with Officer Beaver in pursuit.

At speeds to 50 miles an hour it went down Hayward Drive to Hayward Court, spun out of control, and slammed across a lawn into the home of Raymond Landau, 27 Hayward Court, Beaver said.

In all, Beaver reported, the chase had taken about seven minutes, and Henry still had to be wrestled from his car, taken to the hospital for a blood test, and booked into jail. A report had to be made out on the chase, another on the accident involving the lawn and the Landau home, and the California Highway Patrol had to be called in to investigate and report on the smashing of the patrol car.

He reported that Renteria and his wife, Maua, 45, were returning from a party in San Mateo. Mrs. Renteria told the patrolman that she suggested to her husband that she ought to drive. Renteria agreed and stopped the car.

However, the patrolman said, the car apparently was diagonal from the slow lane, partially into the center lane.

As Renteria was rounding the car, another auto, driven by Max Phillips, 21, of San Francisco, a mail clerk at International Airport, crashed into the Renteria vehicle, pushing it into Renteria, who was thrown a distance of 15 feet. Renteria suffered multiple injuries to the face, skull and chest.

Mrs. Renteria was admitted to Peninsula Hospital with head and facial injuries. Treated for cuts and abrasions and released were Phillips and his passenger, Frances Dondelinger, 23, of San Francisco.

There were a total of 108 fatalities on San Mateo County streets and highways during 1967.

Boy Burned Starting Fire

An eight-year-old Pacifica boy suffered serious burns of the chest, right arm and neck last Friday. His shirt caught fire while he was trying to start a fire in the fireplace of his home.

Reported in good condition at Mary's Help Hospital was William Lyon, son of Mrs. Dorothy Lyon, of 321 Arroyo Drive, Pacifica.

A boarder at the home, Mrs. Donella Hackett, who was watching the child while the mother was at work, clawed the burning shirt from young William and summoned aid.

The boy was rushed to hospital at 10 a.m. and placed in the Intensive Care Unit for treatment.

Construction of Washington Avenue within the city, and the Guadalupe Canyon Parkway over the hump of San Bruno Mountain, were also completed.

Presently underway is the construction of Hickey Boulevard between Junipero Serra Boulevard and Skyline. Construction was also expected to start on the Cabrillo Freeway between Junipero Serra Freeway and St. Francis Boulevard during the first part of 1968. Cost of the project is an estimated $1.5 million.

It was a year of "musical chairs" again at the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees.

Trustee Peter Galiano resigned and moved from Daly

City to Marin (he's now working for the California Teachers' Association), and Frank Monte, local businessman and member of the County Grand Jury, was appointed to replace him.

Trustee Joseph Lewkowicz was re-elected for his fifth term as trustee, and Edward Tomasso was elected to the school board, defeating some ten candidates.

The North Sanitation District broke ground for its new office building off Lake Merced Avenue to keep pace with the expanding city it serves.

The new year will see the opening of the completely rebuilt Woodrow Wilson Elementary School on Miriam Street at a cost of some $500,000.

In the spring, a branch of the Northern Judicial District Court will open in the Old City Hall on Wellington Avenue. It is also anticipated the initial steps for development of a joint county services center — Jefferson High School District administration building will be undertaken, City Mgr. Edward Frank predicted.

Frank said present upward economic trends will continue to make "growth" Daly City's principal characteristic and new home development will continue during 1968.

The New Year will likewise see the grand opening of the huge Serramonte Shopping Center, providing additional stores and shops to the increasing population.

When Murphy asked how McCloskey could help local officials, Mayor Sidney Herkner of Redwood City appealed for a new post office, which, he said, Redwood City has been seeking unsuccessfully for nine years.

Mayor Patrick Ahern asked for help in getting the Army Corps of Engineers to speed up flood control work along Colma creek, which has been going on for six years. Murphy reported McCloskey will meet with General William Cassidy, chief of the corps, on January 19.

Witnesses Hear Lecture

"The God-dishonoring practices that are carried on throughout the world today are under Jehovah's observation and what He sees will soon move him to intervene in men's affairs," So stated Arden B. Stutler, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, to a crowd of 2031 including Daly City members, at the Winterland Arena in San Francisco last Sunday.

Stutler's remarks climaxed the three-day training conference for 16 San Francisco and Peninsula congregations.

"People have corrupted their ways due to false religious ideas," he said.

"The majority reject God's Word and accept teachings rooted in paganism and philosophy that distort their thinking. Wars have been fought in which the lives of millions of men, women and children have been snuffed out.

"We can be sure," he continued, "that Jehovah, whose principles do not change, deplores such breakdown of morals and so will intervene."

Westside Baptist Launches Its Capital Funds Drive

Dr. George Salstrand Th. D., director of Church Capital Funds Ministry of the Home Missions Department of the Baptist General Conference, will conduct a seven day Capital Funds Campaign at the Westside Baptist Church, located at Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard in Pacifica (Fairmont), of which A. David Donnelly is the pastor.

The campaign will begin January 4 at 7:30 p.m.

With 14 years' experience as a pastor and nine years as a seminary professor Dr. Salstrand is now devoting full time to helping Baptist General Conference churches secure capital funds for expansion programs.

He is a graduate of four schools of higher learning. His training began at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, of which he is a graduate. He received his B.S. degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. He holds the Th.B. and B.D. degrees from Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, and from Northern Baptist Seminary in Oakbrook, Illinois. He received his Th.M. and Th.D. degree.

Dr. Salstrand is the author of five books, namely, The Tithe The Minimum Standard For Christian Giving, The Story of Stewardship in the United States of America, and How To Preach From the Gospel of John, The Grace of Giving, and A Good Steward. All of these books published by the Baker Book House in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Maybe you're doing business with an insufficient bank.

How can they just sit there, with all their money, and let your check bounce? Wouldn't you think they'd cover for you? We will. If you open a No-bounce Account with us, what used to be an over-draft will be an automatic loan. Once you're approved, we'll advance from $100 to $2400, depending on your own No-bounce Account limit.

Be your own loan officer. When you write yourself a loan, only our computer knows for sure. So it's up to you to decide if a new washing machine is a worthy cause, or if a trip to Palm Springs is a vital short-term investment.

What we get out of it. We're not in business for fun (who is?) so we collect 1 1/2% interest per month on the average daily balance due. Of course, if you open a No-bounce Account just for rainy days and it never rains, you pay no interest at all.

That $900-million feeling. We are a $900-million bank, but do we feel haughty and smug? Not a bit. We feel we have to knock ourselves out to help people. After all, we'd never get anywhere sitting around saying "No."

Stephen is the brother of Patrick J. Coughlin of Sacramento and Mrs. Benny Stanley of Dover, Del., and the grandson of Mrs. Olive Stephenson of Sacramento. He now is stationed in Munich, Germany, with the Army.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

THE LARRY GRECHES (Diana Cvetovac)

North Countians Recite Promises

Carmel and Las Vegas were the honeymoon stops for Mr. and Mrs. Larry Edward Grech after their recent wedding at the Church of the Visitation. The Rev. Lawrence Krause read the vows at the 3 p.m. ceremony.

The bride, the former Diana Jean Cvetovac, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cvetovac of Daly City. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grech of San Francisco.

Diana recited her vows in an ivory satin sheath detailed with Alencon lace appliques. An ivory lace cap secured her elbow-length illusion veil, and she carried phalaenopsis, Mission Dolores orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Diane Bajada was the honor attendant for Diana with Eva Tornay, Elaine Fisher, Sarah Torres, Marie Bertolino and Anna Marie Andreoli.

Vicky Grech, sister of the benedict, and Linda Bordinaro served as junior bridesmaids. Christina Andreoli was the flower girl, and Edward Cvetovac, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

Fred Bajada served as best man for Larry, and ushering duties were performed by Frank and John Cvetovac, brothers of the bride, Roy Hansen, Paul Aiello, John Vassello, Phil Fittine and San Andreoli Jr.

The couple received felicitations at the Italian American Social Club after the ceremony. They will live in Daly City.

LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM LEX (Diane Chostner)

Oregon Address For Newlyweds

The Episcopal Church of St. Matthew was the setting for the recent marriage of Diane Chostner and Lt. William Lex, USAF. The Rev. Leslie Wilder officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Fireside Room of the Church.

Diane is the daughter of Mrs. Del Chostner of Santa Barbara and the late Mr. Chostner. She was given in marriage by Charles Berry, a family friend. William is the son of Major and Mrs. Henry J. Lex of Daly City.

Diane wore a long Empire gown of white silk crepe for her wedding vows.

Gretchen Wardner, her aunt's maid of honor, wore a short Empire dress of ice blue crepe. The same dresses were chosen by the three bridesmaids — Sharon Berry of San Francisco, Gale Freese of Burlingame, and Carolyn Davis of San Francisco.

Ronald R. Bishop of Santa Barbara was William's best man, and ushering duties were shared by Dan Rink of San Francisco, Jim Bettenger of Belmont, and William Holland of Santa Barbara.

The new matron is a graduate of Burlingame High School and received her degree in sociology this year from U.C. at Santa Barbara where she was a member of Mortar Board and of Spurs, national college women's honorary societies. She is the sister of Mrs. Jonquil Wardner of Whittier.

William was graduate from Galileo High School in San Francisco and also received his degree in sociology this year from U.C. at Santa Barbara. He was graduated last month with distinction from the Air Force Officer Training School. The future bridegroom has a brother, George Lex.

The couple honeymooned in Sausalito and is living in Corvallis, Ore., while he is stationed at Adair Air Force Base.

December Busy For Members Of Sorority

December was a busy month for members of Xi Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Robert Dickow was chosen by her sorority sisters to reign as their Valentine Princess. She will compete with candidates from three other Pacifica chapters for the title of Valentine Queen at the annual Beta Sigma Phi City Council Valentine Ball on February 10.

On December 3, six members travelled to Pleasanton for the Northern California Council Christmas brunch held at the Castlewood Country Club. Those attending from Xi Lambda Phi were the Mesdames James Buchanan, Robert Dickow, Clifford Hollander, Donald Shapton, James Varner and Santos Blaquez.

A Christmas cocktail party was attended by members and their husbands on December 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnson. On December 19, at the home of their president, Mrs. James Buchanan, each member opened a gift revealing the name of her secret sister for the past year.

Included in Xi Lambda Phi's yuletide service projects this year were boxes of soap mailed to an orphanage in Vietnam, donations of flour and sugar to the Volunteer Christmas Bureau, and gifts for patients at the Linda Mar Convalescent Hospital. The gifts were delivered by chapter members who entertained the patients with Christmas carols.

LSD Film Showing In S.S.F.

The St. Veronica's Women's Club will meet January 4, at 8 p.m., in the school cafeteria on Alida Way in South San Francisco.

The film, "LSD 25," will be presented. It was produced for the San Mateo Union High School District and has been shown to the junior and senior high schools in this area. Also present will be a psychiatrist from the North County Mental Health Center who will discuss the movie and answer questions.

Guests for the meeting are the teacher's aides of St. Veronica's School and co-ordinator Mrs. Michael Radie.

This organization affords a unique method of providing enrichment programs for the children of St. Veronica's School with the help of volunteer lay teachers.

BE OUR GUEST- On an EXPENSE-PAID FLIGHT to see

The Wonderful Small World of LAKE HAVASU CITY In Amazing Arizona

You come home, bushed from a harried day and another frantic, post-work bout with solid lines of traffic or what passes as public transit. You shed your coat, your shoes and sink into the sofa with a sigh.

You dream of a sun-drenched spot . . . a fresh-water lake . . . easy access to work . . . with school, stores, golf, fishing, swimming, boating . . . an outdoor world of recreation mere minutes away . . . yours, seven days a week. In reverse, you're in a self-contained, "small, wonderful world of your own."

You'll find exactly this world of better living at Lake Havasu City . . . right on the fabulous Colorado River, where California and Arizona meet to make another world, pleasantly remote from "Big City" living problems.

And you . . . both husband and wife . . . can see this small, wonderful world for yourselves . . . without cost to you . . . as the guests of its developer, McCulloch Properties, Inc.

You'll see that Lake Havasu is a 45-mile-long fresh-water wonder-world . . . with 22 miles of shoreline preserved for Lake Havasu City. Here is your own year 'round domain of outdoor recreation.

Master Plan of Your Future

You'll see that Lake Havasu City was Master-Planned to include industry from the start . . . to give the community jobs and financial "muscle" for growth. Already, four units of the worldwide McCulloch Corporation complex are producing components for high quality McCulloch Outboard Motors and Chain Saws.

And you'll see a third world . . . better living that starts right at home . . . with a protected view of Lake Havasu, a feeling of space to spare as one bounty of the oasis-like desert "Big Country" with its horizon of majestic mountains.

Mere minutes away you see the Civic Center . . . the hub of municipal services — the Irrigation and Drainage District, the Wood Professional Building, the Southern Union Gas Co. They're all clustered around beautifully landscaped Wheeler Memorial Fountain and Park.

Here, paved streets gently curve in and around . . . driving a car is a pleasure again. A modern, mall-type shopping center is a small, wonderful world to browse. You'll pass beautiful churches . . . see the heart of the city's young world . . . Lake Havasu City Elementary School . . . thrice expanded, still of a size to assure the intimate kind of education you may have thought vanished.

Yes . . . you'll see Lake Havasu City is a small, wonderful world as you would make it . . . a world of work with a Science and Industry Park beckoning new industry . . . and a world of better living in a fabulous climate free from smog and fog.

Perhaps Lake Havasu City is best summed up in these words from the U. S. CONGRESSIONAL RECORD: "It combines some of the best of Arizona's magnificent wide open spaces . . . and opportunities for making a living and a home far from the smog, traffic and other disadvantages found in unplanned, congested urban centers."

New World of Opportunity

Yet Lake Havasu City is still another world . . . a world of opportunity! It's a new city . . . an established "now" city . . . a community with its big final growth coming now.

But it will be healthy, balanced growth . . . guided growth to a known, ultimate population and size. You see . . . Lake Havasu City was Master-Planned that way by C. V. Wood, Jr., the organizing genius who directed planning for Disneyland. From an investor's point of view, this planning may be the supreme asset of Lake Havasu City.

A world of opportunity? President Lyndon B. Johnson's Message to Congress said, "Average land is increasing in value almost 10% a year . . . the cost of land for recreation is spiraling at a considerably higher rate."

And Lake-Havasu City is in the area of superb recreation land! Wouldn't this indicate a prime investment opportunity here in the dynamic West for YOU?

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.

Heigh-ho, the kids went back to school yesterday. Have you become accustomed to the quiet house yet?

Fine, let's talk a bit with you good cooks about some interesting recipes.

Now that the baking and cooking for the holidays are behind us, we can think about some lighter cooking. Not that your cakes were anything but light, Heaven forbid! However, the light cooking that I'm thinking about are entrees and salads for luncheons.

Just before the holidays I attended a luncheon at friend, Mrs. Dolores Healy's home, and after enjoying the repast, I asked for the recipes to share with you.

This first recipe for a chicken loaf is delicious and quite easy to make.

CHICKEN LOAF

- 1/4 lb. mushrooms (or a 4-ounce can)
- 1 Tbsp. butter
- 1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup chicken broth (well seasoned)
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 teas. salt
- 1/4 teas. paprika
- 1/4 cup pimento, cut fine
- 3 cups cooked chicken

Cook the one-fourth pound mushrooms in the one tablespoon butter. Combine the one and one-fourth cups bread crumbs with the one cup each milk and chicken broth, add the two eggs, well-beaten and the one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika and one-fourth cup pimento. Add the three cups cooked chicken and the mushrooms and blend.

Pour into a buttered baking dish and steam bake in a pan containing a little hot water. Bake for 1 1/2 hours in moderate oven (350-degrees). Turn out and serve with white sauce. Makes six servings.

WHITE SAUCE

- 2 Tablespoons butter
- 2 Tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Melt the two tablespoons butter, blend in the two tablespoons flour until smooth. Add the one cup milk gradually, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached. Reduce heat and cook for 3 minutes longer; add the one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper and blend. Place over hot water to keep hot and cover tightly to keep film from forming.

NEXT is for a molded salad, using crab. It is delicious served with a luncheon, or as Dolores served it, with crackers as an hors d'oeuvres.

CRAB DELIGHT

- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 envelope gelatin
- 3 Tablespoons cold water
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- 6 ounces cream cheese
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 can crab meat, 7 ounces
- 1 small grated onion

Dissolve the one package gelatin in the three tablespoons cold water. Heat the one can of cream of mushroom soup till warm and stir in the dissolved gelatin.

Have the six ounces of cream cheese at room temperature and mash with a fork then blend it with the small grated onion. Mix with the mushroom soup and gelatin mixture and pour into a mold that has been rinsed with cold water. Refrigerate overnight.

AS YOU KNOW my recipes come from near and far and these next two came from Toronto, Canada, which is pretty far you must admit. Miss Grace Norton, who happens to be my aunt, and a wonderful cook sent these to me and they are a joy. This first cake is fine textured, very like a pound cake.

APRICOT CAKE

- 2-3 cup shortening
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 3 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup apricot juice
- 1/2 cup water
- 1-3 cup apricot pulp
- 2 1/4 cup cake flour
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cream the two-thirds cup shortening and the one

Some Ideas For Lighter Cooking

and three-fourths cup sugar. Beat in the three egg yolks and continue beating until fluffy. Sift together the two and three-fourths cups cake flour with the one-fourth teaspoon soda, two teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Combine the one-half cup each apricot juice and water with the one-third cup apricot pulp. Add this alternately with the sifted dry ingredients to the creamed mixture. Blend well. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour in a greased and floured tube pan and bake in 350-degree oven about one hour or until cake tests done.

I sprinkled my cake with powdered sugar and served it with ice cream. You may frost it with whipped cream if you wish, or any favorite frosting.

HERE'S A CAKE that Canada is so easy to make that my daughter Terri makes it for me with no advice or assistance. This is a delicious cake, moist and rich and pleases everyone in my family. My neighbor, Janey Civanich, has three sons and they all gave it their unqualified stamp of approval, which means they ate it up in a jiffy. And that's the highest form of praise.

FRUIT COCKTAIL CAKE

- 1 17-ounce can fruit cocktail, undrained
- 2 cups flour
- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg

Combine the 17-ounce can fruit cocktail, undrained, with the egg and pour into the two cups flour, one and one-half cups sugar, two teaspoons soda and one-half teaspoon salt which have been sifted together. Blend well and pour into a 13x9-inch pan and bake for 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. What could be more simple?

Thinking About Clothes

With the holiday's over it is time to begin thinking about clothes for the summer and getting rid of any signs that we may have over-indulged in the fruit cake and candy department during the year-end festivities.

Members of the Holy Angels' Women's Guild are among the first to cast eager eyes toward the spring wardrobes. The clothes from Macy's of San Francisco will be spotlighted in the Sheridan Palace Hotel during the parish's spring fashion show and luncheon scheduled for February 17, according to Mrs. Raymond Nightingale.

THOSE WHO WILL HAVE TO BE working the hardest to make sure the reminders of holiday feasting have all faded away by that date are the models who have been named by Mrs. Edward Stokes.

The models names were released just prior to New Year's Eve and among those selected were Mrs. Stanley Kettell, Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Sheerin, Mrs. Joseph Dillon, Mrs. Robert Simon, Mrs. Fred Revetria, Mrs. Don Peyrucain, Mrs. Nightingale, Mrs. Ronald Chiappari and Mrs. Roger Luhrs.

This year's show will include a number of chic selections for the younger set and so Mrs. Stokes has appointed Christine McCarthy, Kathryn Griffin, Mary Dempsey and Steven Bernie junior models.

The show, "Carousel of Color," is being chaired by Mrs. Michale Sugrue and Mrs. Gerlad Delfino. Mrs. John Desmond and Mrs. Con Dempsey are in charge of the reservations for the event.

According to Mrs. Nightingale, reservations will go on sale this month and it is too early to begin lining up friends and relatives to make your fashion show table one of the liveliest and happiest.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kramer and daughters, Kim, Robin, Ann and Lisa, are back in their Westlake home after a pleasant holiday spent with relatives at the Russian River.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lederer and daughter Rita trekked to Los Angeles to welcome in the New Year with relatives and friends who had motored cross-country from Texas for the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills of Brentwood spent the New Year's Eve hours with friends in San Francisco and renewing their friendship with the Aubrey C. Sparks family of Lincoln and Sierra City, Calif.

The evening was a family type of gathering with the Mills girls, Marty, Laurie, Jeanine and Janette also attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rogers, formerly of Westlake and now of Concord, made a round of holiday calls on old Westlake friends and neighbors on Montrose Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin of Westlake hosted friends at a tea honoring their daughter Christiana, of Missouri, last weekend.

Howard Loeffler, music instructor at Westmoor High School, was the surprised recipient of a musical note typewriter, a Christmas gift from his music students at the school.

A most welcome Christmas gift to our servicemen who were traveling during the pre Christmas week were the cupcakes, cookies and candies distributed to them by the members of Pacifica's Native Daughters and the Navy Mothers.

Each third Thursday the Pacifica women take baked goods, and candies to the San Francisco Airport to give to the young men waiting for planes taking them to points overseas or returning them to their homes.

Mrs. Frances Baxter is chairman of the volunteers from the Native Daughters and Mrs. Mary Cristofani is in charge of the group from the Navy Mothers.

Home Economist Is Club Speaker

Holy Angels Women's Guild will hold its regular meeting on January 3 at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

Vice-president Mrs. Bernie will introduce Mrs. Louise Fletcher, home economist for the PG&E, the guest speaker.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS By DONALD C. WAITE WHAT FURNITURE AGE ARE WE IN NOW?

In a future book on Interior Decorating, the 1960's undoubtedly will be known as the "Age of Individualism." It is an age in which many previous notions, rules and ideas on decoration have been discarded; an age in which originality, inventiveness and individuality have been given free reign.

Gone are the stereotyped arrangements which were seen in too many homes — such as the sofa with matching end tables and lamps on each side, with a mirror or picture centered over the sofa — just as the standard 9 x 12 rug was once used in a room of any size.

In furnishing your home now it is important to use your own individualism, self-expression, and your own likes and dislikes. So many people are afraid to be different in selecting their furnishings, with the result that — for example — too many people "play it safe" by using neutral colors when they really love bright colors, or by matching instead of mixing wood finishes and periods.

A courageous splash of color — or the use of a piece of furniture different than anyone else has used — is very often the difference between decorating and just furnishing.

To see the latest and best selection of furniture, and to get ideas for your home, we invite you to come in and visit with us.

4 Daly City Scouts Earn Eagle Badges

Boy Scout Troop 248, sponsored by the Westlake Improvement Association, conducted an Eagle Scout Court of Honor, at the Westmoor High School Little Theatre.

Don Monson, President of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, presented the coveted award to Scouts Bruce Belotz, Mark Christensen, Raymond Graf and Bruce Tronoff.

The Eagle Scout Badge is the highest rank a Boy Scout can earn in Scouting.

The Eagle Scouts were presented to the court by members of Troop 248, led by their Scoutmaster, J. Mark Renfrow. The ceremonies were attended by a large gathering of friends, relatives and local Scouting and Daly City dignitaries.

The Eagle Badge was pinned on each boys' uniform by the mothers, and each Scout in turn pinned a small replica of the badge on his mother.

After the ceremony, Scoutmaster Renfrow introduced Al Belotz, the Serra District Commissioner, who introduced several Scouting officials in attendance.

Belotz, on behalf of the troop, then presented Renfrow with an engraved plaque, expressing the appreciation of the Scouts and parents of Troop 248.

A final presentation was made to Scoutmaster Renfrow by the four new Eagle Scouts, in honor of this occasion and for the help he has given them. Renfrow received an attache case.

CEREMONIAL ROBE was presented to the Rev. Herschel D. Harkins from the Pacifica Fifty-Plus club recently by the club's Sunshine chairman Mrs. Harry Iverson, above. The gift to the pastor of Pacifica's noted Little Brown Church was in recognition of more than 25 years' service to the congregation by the Reverend Harkins, who will be retiring soon, a spokesman of the club explained. Mrs. Iverson also presents a card bearing signatures of contributors from all faiths.

Coast Man On Tower Fights Police

A 25-year-old Daly City man had been held for observation at County General Hospital after battling two Pacifica policemen with sticks and stones from water storage tank.

Ronald William Slater, a warehouseman "may have been," according to a Pacifica police spokesman, on a bad LSD trip when he climbed the water tank near Olympian Way on Christmas day.

Slater, who lives at 192 Belcrest in Daly City, had climbed the tank shortly before 1 p.m.

Police Sgt. Ray Karczewski and Patrolman O. B. Hargraves attempted to get Slater to come down. He didn't intend to and he said so in words, backed up with "rocks and wood — from 2x4's to "sticks."

Karczewski, leaving Hargraves down below as sort of a decoy, started up a ladder on the tank.

But Slater saw the big sergeant coming up and began pelting him with rocks and sticks. As Karczewski got close enough, Slater also began swinging longer, heavier boards at the policeman.

Karczewski got to Slater and eventually subdued him . . . but one of the boards smashed him hard on the hands.

Hargraves also suffered a severe blow on the back from a rock.

The Residency Rule!

HAPPY NEW YEAR FOLKS!

Or is it? Depends on how you look at it. Take the case of Daly City fire captain Lyle Church.

Thanks to that city's unpopular "residency requirement" a medical waiver requested by Church, so he could move to a neighboring city where his ailing son could receive treatment, was denied by the Personnel Board.

In its decision, the Board (which has asked the City Council to throw out the ruling for the past two years) noted "in accordance with the rules, employees must live in Daly City."

Church's young son suffers from asthma and is required to go to Kaiser Hospital in South City (14 times in 1967) to help him breathe. The air in D.C. is wet, cold and otherwise hard on the youth. Church pointed out in his letter to the Board that the climate is more suitable in the neighboring area for his son.

The question is: Will Daly City go on losing good personnel because of that ruling?

Watch the expanding vacancy list at the city Hall for the answer.

AND WHILE WE'RE IN THE MOOD—We heard "White Christmas" so many times on the radio that we (the little spouse and I) decided to do something about it. We ventured to the Never-Never Land of white snow, mountains and green crap tables. That great expanse of land known as "Tahoe" to spend a "Casino Christmas" at good old Harvey Gross' posh resort hotel on the south shore.

The Lake was all decked out in its festive best. Harvey's had a decorated evergreen in each room, the drinking and eating rooms were all sporting their finest holiday decorations in an effort to strike the proper seasonal mood and employees handed people their chips or took your money with a smiling "Merry Christmas."

Down in the valley, along the moonlit main street of Stateline, singing could be heard coming from the churches Christmas Eve. It was reminiscent of those Good Old-Fashioned Christmases we had almost forgotten.

Up on the slopes of Heavenly Valley ski run, movie star Jill St. John was skimming along the packed snow while companion Jim Lonborg (of the Red Sox) snapped his knee nearby. Down below, in Harrah's main dining room, Jack Jones (Mr. St. John), sang about the season and asked, "Let it Snow, Let it Snow, Let it Snow." Thankfully it didn't and the roads remained open for our post-Christmas departure back across the frontier.

Although we did not hear any "Jingle Bells" ringing outside our tenth floor window at Harvey's, we did hear the periodic ringing of jackpot bells. And what could be a better holiday present than that?

FLASHY FLASH—Good news gleaned from the minutes of the December 14 meeting of the Personnel Board: Firemen in Daly

City can wear dentures . . . no problem. But contact lenses is another story. Chief Herb Ritzman feels his firefighters would not have sufficient time to put in contact lenses during an emergency call. Might be a good idea to have a contact lense versus denture race sometime, just to be sure.

D.C. BEAUTY CONTESTS have been labeled "too expensive for the benefit derived" by last year's chairman of the event, P. Evert Terminello. Actually, compared to the Pacifica Pageant staged each year, the D.C. function is a big nothing. Newly appointed D.C. beauty chairman Mona Baker has sent out a questionnaire asking what can be done to improve the contest. We suggest scrapping the questionnaire and huddling with Pacifica beauty pageant officials. More money might also help.

SAD BUT TRUE TALE—D.C. officer Dennis Cosgrove has investigated many a stolen vehicle. The latest case involved his own car — stolen from in front of his house last week. It was recovered the next day in good condition, but with a few added miles on the speedometer.

POOR MAN'S FRIEND—Chamber manager and D.C. insurance executive Peter Markovich expressed "sincere thanks to all those nice people who contributed cash, canned goods, turkeys and toys" during the recent Operation Santa Claus project.

The committee, with the aid of the D.C. Fire Department, Recreation Department and Marines, distributed goods to some 121 families (478 youngsters). Markovich said it was indeed a community effort which resulted in bringing great joy to those less fortunate living in our midst.

We only can add our humble "well done" to those who took part in this program. The people who were at the receiving end of the gifts must certainly be thankful for citizens like these who give of their time and money to help others.

YOU BE THE JUDGE—North County Municipal Court Judge Charles Becker is undoubtedly a man of class unparalleled, a gentleman, a scholar, and a wit. In his courtroom Thursday (the day after Governor Reagan overlooked him in appointing two new judges for the county) Becker was attempting to explain the bail procedure to a burglary suspect. "What it all means," the judge said, "is that if you are able to put up the stipulated amount of money, I will let you enjoy the beautiful weather we have been having for a few days before you have to go to jail."

Then, in an aside to the entire courtroom, the judge cracked: "I have to quit making statements like that, because they get back to the governor, and then I don't get appointed to a Superior Court judgeship."

Long-Delayed Gift

The photographs of the grandchildren ordered for Christmas gifts did not arrive in time.

In fact, they may never arrive. The housewife had ordered them from a salesman who had knocked at her door early in November.

He carried beautiful samples of the photographic work his studio did at a fraction of the cost the local studios would charge her.

THE SALESMAN, actually an advance man, sold the housewife coupons which were supposedly good for one or more "free" pictures. The photographer's agent was followed a week later by a man with the camera. The children were hastily assembled for the picture taking as the photographer was in a great hurry because of his tight holiday schedule. A proof passer was the next to call upon the housewife with the printed picture. She was high-pressured into buying more copies of the picture than the original order and at a higher price. In order to expedite the Christmas delivery, she was advised to pay for the order in full, which she did.

SHE WAITED DAILY for the pictures' arrival. The day before Christmas, after the last mail delivery, she dashed down to the store for a last-minute gift for the grandparents living in the area. The other grandparents would have to be disappointed. This disappointment was a tragedy to the housewife who had planned for over a month on the gift of pictures to doting grandparents.

Such orders are often late and sometimes the paid-in-full orders never arrive. Very often when the pictures do arrive, they are a great disappointment as they do not measure up to the beautiful samples of work the canvassers carry to sell their work.

A FAVORITE METHOD employed by the itinerant vendor is to send the finished order C.O.D. In this way the customer must pay for the pictures before he has a chance to examine them. The customer with complaints, and the Better Business Bureau has many of them after the holidays, sometimes finds that the "studio" no longer is in business or cannot be located.

A good photographer is an artist who depends upon his skill and fair dealing to hold a permanent place in a community. The Bureau again reminds "cheap" photos are no bargains. Avoid disappointment and dissatisfaction by dealing with photographers of known reliability.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK

HERE'S ANOTHER "CRED-IT" to a North County neighborhood. Sights such as this are causing city officials one headache after another. In Daly City, councilmen have instructed the city attorney to start nuisance abatement proceedings against just such "eyesores" in order to spruce up areas. A concerned resident of Daly City sent The Post this photo. Note the broken windowpanes, scrap metal and overgrown weeds. Although a house is vacant, there is little excuse to allow conditions like this to continue for prolonged periods.

A Rude Awakening

DALY CITY Police Captain Dave Hansen had an unscheduled awaking last Sunday. His sleep was interrupted by the unexpected clatter of a San Francisco muni bus on his dead-end residential street.

Hansen said the last thing he ever expected to roust him from his bed was THAT. Police biz, yeah, but a muni bus on the back streets of Daly City? Seems, he learned, that the driver was a newcomer to the schedule, who got . . . lost on his rounds!

BILL MASONHEIMER, the Pacifica City Manager, who took over his post early last year (this is the New Year already! . . .) described his first year as "exhaustive and satisfying and frightening and heartwarming."

With a host of vacant positions to fill — 1967 was a year of change in faces for the coastal community — especially at department head level, Masonheimer and those other staffers involved had a hectic few months.

"I'm most grateful," Masonheimer said, "for the competence and dedication of our employees, and for the understanding and confidence of the many fine civic-minded officials and citizens."

Masonheimer summed his first year: "We've been busy." And for 1968: "We'll be busier!"

MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL was all decked out for the Christmas-New Year holiday period. The Emergency section (which is what we spent three hours looking at Sunday when one of our boys fractured an arm) was done in streamers and wall decorations of symbol and verse of the season.

That and the piped music, and nice folks who work there, we're sure, took some of the sting out of having to spend any part of the holiday at, or in, the hospital.

And we haven't been there yet when one of the sparkle-eyed nuns wasn't there to offer a cheerful, obviously sincere word.

This genial, but efficient atmosphere cannot be too easy for the emergency crew, its members facing one patient crisis after another, shift after shift.

ONE MEMBER of the Mary's Help delivery staff noted that there were five babies born just shortly before midnight New Year's Eve, making the dependent deduction deadline!

HENRY SUNDERMANN SR. set high standards of service for his fellow citizens to reach. For 62 years he remained in public life serving the citizens of Daly City and San Mateo County where-ever and when-ever they called.

Among the positions he held were Deputy Marshall, Fire Marshall and Fire Chief, a Daly City councilman, Library Commissioner, and recently a member of the Daly City Historical Committee.

AN EXAMPLE of his humility in approaching public service may be found in his memoirs.

"One night in 1920, John D. Daly and John Marshbanks called on me. 'Henry,' Mr. Daly said, 'We want you to run for the City Council.'"

"I don't know," I replied, "I'm fire chief, but I have little prestige."

"Everybody knows you; so you can be elected," Mr. Marshbanks and Mr. Stocton, who were present, agreed. So I ran for the Council and was elected."

He was re-elected for five four-year terms and one two-year term. Midway in his years of service a newspaper wrote of him. "When a man has held a position of responsibility for years and when his continuance in that position is subject to the will of the people, it is

IN A MOMENT of reflection, Mr. Sundermann wrote, "My little journey through this life has been interesting and exciting and I would love to undertake the same journey again."

Mr. Sundermann's journey started in Germany in 1879. When he was 13, he became convinced that his prospects in his native land were limited so he borrowed money for a boat fare and in 1893 arrived in New York City.

He was alone and unable to speak a word of English. "It was exciting, indeed," he recalled.

While his first job was in a general merchandise store, he soon fulfilled his boyhood dream of working on the railroad. Ultimately he settled in San Francisco. His first job was driving a dairy wagon in the Old Barbary Coast and in Chinatown.

AFTER HIS RETIREMENT as credit manager for the Borden Dairy Delivery Company, after 37 years of service, Mr. Sundermann, devoted much of his time to gathering items of the history of Northern San Mateo County.

One of his last projects was to write a few memoirs to be placed in the historical library that he was helping to organize.

Surely nothing would have pleased him more than to see other longtime residents of the area write their memoirs.

Continued Bruno Development Highlights the Year Gone By

By DON GRIERSON

As 1967 came to a close, the City of San Bruno marked the end of a year which brought continued development on a number of ambitious community projects and a revitalization of the building industry.

Work began near the end of the year on the $400,000 city hall expansion project and a $150,000 revamping of the city's corporation yard facilities, two improvements which have been several years in the planning stages.

Both the corporation yard and the city hall expansion (which will double the floor space of the police department, city clerk's offices and the water billing department) are expected to be completed early in 1968.

The city is paying for these improvements with funds set aside over a period of several years. The federal government contributed $100,000 to cover cost of a civil defense operating center in the basement of the city hall addition.

Work is also in progress on the new Skyline Junior College, and contracts totalling more than $5 million have been awarded for the Phase I construction.

The new junior college is scheduled to open in the fall of 1968, and will serve about 2,000 day students and several hundred evening students. The college is being built on a 111-acre site at an initial construction cost of approximately $10 million.

Mayor Maurice Hamilton and members of the council approved agreements with the county during the year to assure early completion of the city's flood control projects, and plans are currently being prepared for this extensive undertaking.

Plans have also been approved for widening Sneath Lane from two to four lanes between Junipero Serra Boulevard and El Camino Real. Rights-of-way have been purchased for the project, and construction is scheduled to begin next July.

The city's transportation outlook was also improved considerably during the year when the State Division of Highways announced it had awarded top priority to the proposed 186 Freeway route between San Bruno and Pacifica.

Most of the right-of-way for the new road between Junipero Serra and the Bayshore Freeway has already been purchased and the new route is expected to be completed in about three years.

In other areas, the proposed Tanforan Shopping Center failed to materialize during 1967, and the former race track site has again changed hands.

Earlier in the year, the Tavares Co., original developers of the shopping center project, allowed the site to revert to the Sunset Petroleum Co. Sunset sold the choice property to a confidential buyer last month at a Los Angeles auction.

Streets, water mains, and other improvements were installed at the site by the Tavares Co., and city officials are confident it will eventually be developed as a shopping center.

Across El Camino Real from Tanforan, the 100-acre Consolidated Lands Co. parcel has been approved for commercial development, and this site is also expected to be used for a shopping center, though there are complications involving the new 186 Freeway project.

The city's chamber of commerce, under new manager

Larry Mobley, is continuing work on the downtown redevelopment project begun last year, and a revised cost estimate on the plan will be presented to merchants next month by Ken Chapman, chairman of the redevelopment committee.

Chamber officials hope to present an application for funds to finance planning the project to the Housing and Urban Development Department next month.

The chamber of commerce, headed by president William Schneider, will also begin a study of the city's transportation needs next month in an effort to establish a municipal bus system and map preliminary plans for a feeder line "tie-in" with a future West Bay rapid transit system.

One of the happier developments in the city during the past year was the return of building activity to the level enjoyed prior to the "tight money" era which began in 1965.

Building during the first 11 months of 1967 totaled approximately $10 million, according to City Manager Gerard Vergeer, and the year's total was expected to double the 1966 figures.

Seedlings Available

The Pacific Park, Beach and Recreation Department will have tree seedlings available to the public at the City Corporation Yard, January 13 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

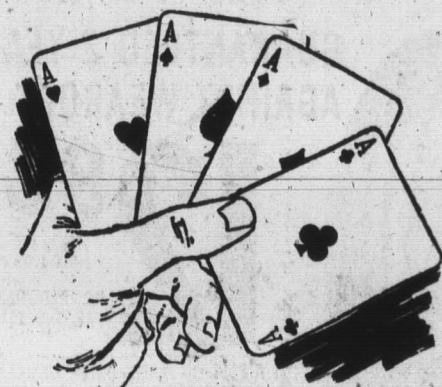

The Corporation Yard is located at the corner of Palmetto and Montecito in Sharp Park District. Seedlings available will be Monterey Pine, Bishop Pine, Douglas Fir and Beach Pine. Printed material on care and maintenance of the seedlings will be available.

A donation of 3 cents per seedling will be requested.

The trees have just arrived from the State Nursery in Santa Cruz County, and are specially grown for the coastside climate.

Unyielding Gear

Regular readers of this column know that we have once or twice become so disenchanted with today's unyielding football protective equipment that we have stated — citing our childhood playground tackle games and such rough games as rugby in which players go virtually unprotected — that football players would be better off playing without any protection at all.

The latter admittedly radical statement has invariably brought strong enough arguments from proponents of the knight-in-armor school to pressure us into modifying our stand and admitting that football does need protective equipment, but generally not the kind it has now.

What follows is a compendium of facts and statistics we've gathered over the past two or three years which have helped us to form our conclusion.

WHEN A FOOTBALL PLAYER gets hit a good, hard, solid shot, the impact is roughly equivalent to being hit squarely with a baseball bat swung by Mickey Mantle on one of his old tape-measure jobs.

What this does is cause injuries, sometimes crippling ones. To be fair, fatalities are rare (the fatality rate is 1.62 per every 100,000 football players; the auto fatality rate in the 15-19 age group, for instance, is 57 every 100,000), but a boy playing football not only must eventually expect injury during his career, but must count on it and learn to live with the fact that he has a good chance of incurring permanent damage.

THE PREVALENCE of serious injuries as to level of play runs an odd pattern: high schoolers have the highest rate of injuries, followed, curiously (at least studies seem to indicate such) by the pros, and lastly by collegians.

Doctors feel that the basic reasons for high school injuries are matters of physical maturity and experience; the younger boy lacks the co-ordination and experience which enables him to avoid danger. Other factors seem to be generally poorer playing and training conditions and medical assistance, and sometimes inferior equipment.

Among the pros, the reasons for the relatively high injury rates are apparently more subtle.

Studies have virtually eliminated weather as having any real bearing on injuries, and investigators are dubious on the matter of field conditions. Officials have rejected "dirty play."

It is likely, the experts feel, that the increased weight of players has had some bearing on injuries, but it is difficult to prove and therefore speculative. Another possible factor, they say, is the more frequent red dogging and the organized blitzes, which most affects quarterbacks and linebackers (LB's have shown the sharpest injury rise, attributed to the added duties assigned them in recent years).

There may be the natural inclination to hit with more verve and to play with injuries because a livelihood is involved. Many rookie injuries (rookies are twice as liable to injuries as old pros) hike the statistics because rookies get the idea they must be extra large to succeed as pros and often play "fat," which makes them more susceptible to injury. And then some team trainers, under pressure to try to keep key players in the play-for-pay games, get careless with pain-killing drugs. Any pain-killer shot into an injury near a joint is dangerous. Pain serves as a warning to the body that something is wrong, and with pain temporarily eliminated, an athlete will tend to subject a damaged joint to punishment which he wouldn't be able to stand without the drug. Thus, relatively simple injuries are sometimes aggravated into complicated ones.

AT THE PREP SCHOOL level, head and knee injuries (especially head concussions) are most prevalent; at the college level, knee and head injuries; and at the pro level, knee (in 1966 each club lost an average of four men per week from "knees," and 32 players missed 10 games or more), head, shoulder and injuries to the soft tissues — meaning muscle pulls, hamstring trouble, and big bruises, which have been more costly to the pros than sprains and breaks.

INJURIES AS RELATED to position as found in a three year survey of the NFL published after the '66 season, are equally divided between offense and defense. Offensive tackles seldom receive serious injuries. Centers are most vulnerable at the moment of the snap, guards when pulling out. Tight ends are seldom hurt when blocking, but do commonly get shoulder injuries as receivers — as all receivers do — when flipped over after a reception.

The quarterback is more susceptible to serious injury than any other player, either in the knee when being cut down during or after release of the pass, or the shoulders, when being flipped.

Defensive backs are the men most likely not to come back after a knee operation. They must have perfect reactions to cope with the unpredictable offensive moves, and therefore must most often make abnormal moves which demand perfectly sound joints.

IF PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT is the best answer to the above facts and statistics, then there had better be different questions.

From what we've read and discussed, there seems to be no way of protecting the knee or the shoulder (from flips). The present helmet, because of its hardness and the technique taught by most coaches of "burying" the head into the pit of the stomach of the man to be tackled, is not adequate in many cases to protect players — especially the physically immature — from that Mantle-like impact in the head and neck. Of all equipment, however, there is probably more research now being done on the improvement of the helmet than any other. So there is hope in that area.

There is nothing at present, it seems, that can adequately protect players from rib injuries (often incurred because of the "head burying" technique), but there is hope that some practical measures can eventually be developed.

The face mask is only a partial answer to a problem, as has been acknowledged by the issuance of stiff penalties for "face masking" (tackling by grabbing the face mask.)

So all of this is why we think current football protective devices are for the most part inadequate.

Reading and conversation has convinced us, in fact, that probably the best protection from injury is rigid discipline, fine year-round conditioning, and the ability to last long enough to gain that fine instinct for survival which experience begets.

Athletes From N. County
Helped CSM Fall Season'Greatest'
Fall Effort
For College

College of San Mateo athletes, many from the North County, enjoyed the greatest fall season in the school's 25-year athletic history during 1967.

Three of CSM's four fall sports teams brought home championships.

The Bulldog cross country team went undefeated in dual meets while San Mateo's water polo and soccer teams defeated Foothill and City College of San Francisco, respectively, for the first time to grab titles.

Outside of tournaments, these three teams won 35 out of 39 contests they played.

Although the Bulldog football team didn't win a championship, it was a contender for the crown until losing to defending champion City College of San Francisco in the next to last game. CSM actually missed the crown by a total of only seven points as Contra Costa (by four) and Chabot (by three) each took last-minute victories from the 3-1 Mateans during the tightest Golden Gate Conference race ever.

But CSM fullback Al Nannery of Daly City ranked as the best JC fullback in the state and was a unanimous choice as top player in the GGC. He gained JC All-America recognition during both of his seasons at San Mateo.

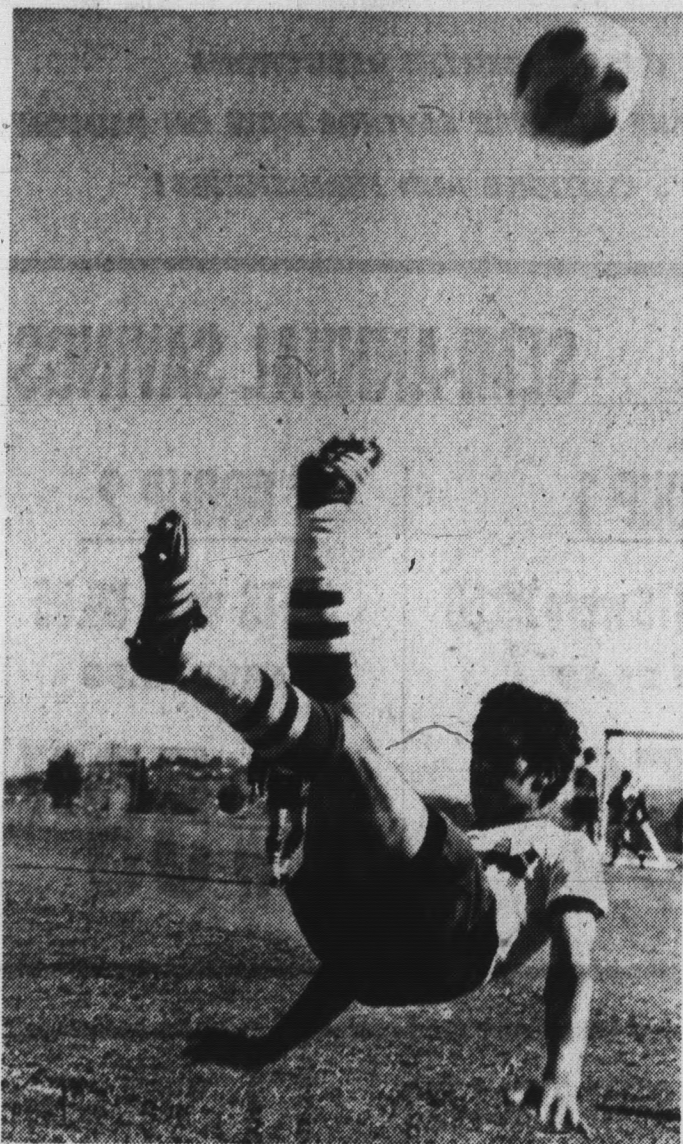

Freshman cross country coach Phil Casaroli piloted the Bulldogs to a 7-0 record, running up near perfect scores in every meet. (Scoring 15 points a meet — 105 for the season — and forcing opponents to the 50-point mark — 350 for the season — would be perfect. San Mateo had totals of 116 and 322.)

Casaroli who supplied Foothill College with many of its top runners while coaching at Homestead High, claims his 1967 Bulldog team was the finest team to ever hit the GGC.

Frustrated for the four previous seasons CSM has played water polo, coach Rich Donner finally beat Foothill in his 13th game against the Owls. It marked the first time Foothill had ever lost to another Northern California JC in the sport (after more than 60 games) and gave the Bulldogs a share of the GGC title with Foothill.

CSM finished second in Northern California and third in the state as Foothill won both of those crowns.

Freshman Ken Belli of South San Francisco followed

Most Consistent in Soccer

in the footsteps of his brother Dennis (1965) in taking all-league, All-Northern California, and All-State honors.

Ken set a new CSM season scoring record of 117 goals, hitting on 56 per cent of his shots; also led the Bulldogs in assists through their 24-7 season. Donner labels him "the best JC water polo player in California."

CSM's soccer team had to play part of the season without its returning first team JC All-America Aage Lyssand and suffered two defeats during the first half of Western JC Soccer Conference play.

Tickets for the luncheon can be purchased at the Recreation Department office at City Hall or from league officials.

Local baseball fans are urged to attend this annual activity. Mails, a former major and minor league pitcher, will give the group the latest information on the Giants for 1968.

Instruction in Kodakon Judo will begin January 15 at the Terra Nova High School auxiliary gym. The 10 week course will cost $7.50 for residents. Ages 8 to 14 will meet at 7 until 8:30 p.m., and adults, 15 and over, will meet from 8:30 until 10 p.m.

Registration is presently being taken at the Recreation Department office.

Joe Sousa will instruct the classes. The Open Gym Basketball program will reopen at Oceana High School gym January 8, from 7 until 10 p.m.

The 'Road to Olympics'
At D.C.'s Cow Palace

Indoor track, a winter sports hybrid which is part spectacle and part cigar smoke, inaugurates an Olympic year for Uncle Sam's runners, jumpers, and throwers this week at the Cow Palace.

The All-American Games, the only indoor meet scheduled for the north county arena this year, will be staged Friday, January 5, wherein two past Olympic heroes will try to regain their former world class rank.

They are Billy Mills and Bob Schul, respective gold medal winners in the 10,000 and 5,000-meter runs at the Tokyo Olympics of 1964.

Since each scored his momentous triumph, Mills and Schul nearly ended their track careers for good.

But both are reportedly fit again and ready to take their first competitive step toward Mexico City.

VOLLEY BALL

The Pacifica Recreation Department's adult co-recreation volleyball program and play will resume on Tuesday night. The program is held every Tuesday night at Terra Nova High School gym from 7:30 until 10 p.m.

A Great Recipe Travels to You

All the wonderful new worlds that travel opens for you go home to your own kitchen with recipes. Beef Burgundy, the classic French stew, has been served in famous restaurants the world around, now is at home on American Airlines' Jet Express flights between New York and Chicago, and on flights from Chicago to the coast as well. This is a dish that can be prepared a day or two ahead, seems to taste even better for the time spent sitting in the refrigerator. American's recipe is a notable one. Here it is:

Beef Burgundy

(Serves 6)

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| 3 lbs. chuck, cut into 1 inch squares | 2 1/2 tablespoons potato flour (regular flour can be substituted) |
| Butter or oil | 1 1/2 cup strong beef stock |
| 3 tablespoons brandy | 1/2 to 3/4 cup Burgundy, depending on taste |
| 3 dozen small white onions, peeled | 1/2 cup sherry |
| 3/4 lb. small whole mushrooms | 1/2 cup port wine |
| 3 teaspoons B.V. (Bovril) meat glaze | 1/2 teaspoon black pepper |
| 3 teaspoons tomato paste | 1 bay leaf, crumbled |
| | Snipped parsley |

Early in day or the day before, in Dutch oven in hot butter, brown beef on all sides; flame with brandy. While beef browns, prepare onions.

Remove beef, set aside; add onions, browning slowly with lid on; add mushrooms, simmer two minutes.

Stir in meat glaze, tomato paste, flour, beef stock, wine, pepper and bay leaf. Bring to gentle boil, stirring.

Return beef to mixture; simmer at least two hours, or until meat is tender, stirring frequently. Refrigerate until ready to reheat and serve. Sprinkle with snipped parsley.

Serve with Gnocchi, buttered noodles or crusty French bread.

Twin Mince Meat With Onions Good

Onions become a special treat when paired with mince meat. Although at first this duo may startle some, everyone who tries it is in for a pleasant surprise. Tiny whole white onions and the mince meat, ready-to-use right from the jar, are piqued with vinegar, tomato paste, sugar, cayenne, dried thyme, bay leaf, and black pepper. According to the Borden Kitchen, Piquante Onions partner perfectly with poultry—as the "something new" with traditional turkey, perhaps. With or without poultry, though, the consensus on onions will be—better by far with mince meat.

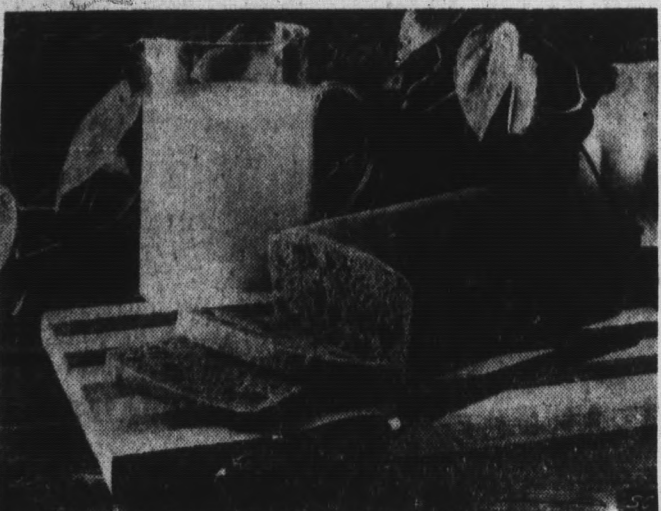

Piquante Onions

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- | | |
|--|----------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons new Danish margarine or butter | 3 tablespoons tomato paste |
| 1-1/2 lbs. (about 2 dozen) tiny whole white onions, peeled | 1 tablespoon salad oil |
| 1-1/8 cups (one-half 28-oz. jar) None Such ready-to-use mince meat | 2 tablespoons sugar |
| 1/4 cup wine vinegar | Dash cayenne pepper |
| | 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme |
| | 1 bay leaf |
| | Dash black pepper |

In a medium-size skillet, melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add onions; cook until browned on all sides; stir often. Turn onions into a 1-1/2-quart casserole. In a medium-size mixing bowl, combine all remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour mixture over onions. Bake in a slow (325°F.) oven about 1-1/2 hours, or until tender. Serve hot with roast chicken or turkey.

Nut Bread Is a Treat

Spare the cost, but never the pleasure of fine quick breads. By using inexpensive instant nonfat dry milk, a family can enjoy the qualities of whole milk at a saving. Here's a delicious example: a Nut-Brown Wheat Bread made with dry milk, mixed with molasses, and dappled with coarsely chopped walnuts. Complement the bread's nutty sweetness with butter, margarine, or cream cheese, or, for those with a sweet tooth, with preserves.

Nut-Brown Wheat Bread

(Makes one 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf)

- | | |
|---|--|
| 3/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar | 1 cup Starlac instant non-fat dry milk, dry form |
| 1-1/2 cups cold water | 2-1/2 teaspoons baking powder |
| 1/4 cup light molasses | 1-1/2 teaspoons salt |
| 2 cups whole wheat flour | 3/4 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour | 3/4 cup chopped walnuts |

Dissolve brown sugar in water; stir in molasses. (Stir, do not sift, whole wheat flour before measuring.) Into large mixing bowl, sift whole wheat flour, all-purpose flour, nonfat dry milk, baking powder, salt and baking soda. Pour water-molasses mixture into sifted-dry ingredients; blend well. Stir in walnuts. Pour into a buttered 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a slow (300°F.) oven about 1 hour, or until cake tester inserted in center of loaf comes out clean. Cool thoroughly. Serve with butter, margarine or cream cheese.

Create Some New Cookie Combines

Oatmeal cookies just like mother made? Not quite. The Borden Kitchen blended two traditions—oatmeal and mince meat—in a creative cookie. The pungent mince meat is mixed with quick oats and flaked coconut. When cooled, the cookies are piped with white confectioners' sugar and capped with maraschino cherry halves. Good stay-at-homes, these cookies are wonderful travelers, too, as gifts to friends and family far away.

Fancy Oatmeal Cookies
(Makes 5 dozen two-inch diameter cookies)

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1-1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1 egg |
| 1 teaspoon baking powder | 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking soda | 1 cup quick oats |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 (8-oz.) package None Such condensed mince meat |
| 1/2 cup (1 stick) Borden's new Danish margarine or butter, softened | 1-1/3 cups (one 3-1/2-oz. can) flaked coconut |
| 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar | |

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. In a large-size mixing bowl, cream margarine and sugar together until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Add oats. Blend in sifted dry ingredients. Break mince meat into small pieces with a fork. Stir in mince meat and coconut. Shape dough into balls the size of small walnuts; place on lightly greased baking sheet. Flatten with fork or spatula. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven, 10 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool slightly before removing from baking sheet. If desired, pipe with white confectioners' sugar piping and cherry halves.

Entertain With Eastern Ease

Wanderlust and the whim for something novel blend in this Chicken Indienne—an eloquent mingling of chicken, rice, and mince meat all spiced with curry powder. It's quick to make the Borden Kitchen way with modern mince meat; no tedious, time-consuming mincing, cutting and cooking. Truly a food that invites the more the merrier.

Chicken Indienne
(Makes 6 servings)

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 tablespoon butter | 2 cups chicken stock* |
| 1 3/4 lb. frying chicken, cut into serving pieces OR 3 lbs. chicken parts | 1-1/3 cups ready-to-use None Such mince meat |
| 1 onion, coarsely chopped | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 green pepper, coarsely chopped | 1 dash pepper |
| 2 tablespoons reconstituted lemon juice | 1 cup uncooked long grain rice |
| | 1 tablespoon curry powder |

In a large skillet, melt butter and brown chicken pieces on all sides. Remove browned chicken from skillet. In same skillet, sauté onion and green pepper until shiny. Add lemon juice, chicken stock, mince meat, salt, pepper, rice and curry powder; mix well. Turn mixture into buttered 2-1/2-quart casserole or baking dish. Arrange browned chicken pieces over rice mixture. Cover. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 1 hour or until chicken and rice are tender.

*Cover chicken giblets, neck and wing tops with hot water. Season with salt and pepper. Simmer while browning chicken.

Monte Christo Is Hearty Sandwich

Either an American Heroine (top) or a Monte Christo make a hearty sandwich meal. Create an 8-inch "heroine" the Borden Kitchen way: Slice a hero roll lengthwise into three layers. Spread the bottom layer with lettuce leaves, three slices of American process pimento cheese and sliced tomatoes. Coat both sides of the middle layer with mayonnaise and place atop the tomatoes. Spread mustard on the underside of the top layer and complete the sandwich. Spear candied midget gherkins, cherry tomatoes and sandwich pickles on food picks and secure sandwich. Then try this one:

Monte Cristo Sandwich
(Makes 2 sandwiches)

- | | |
|---|--|
| 3 to 4 tablespoons new Danish margarine or butter, softened | 4 slices (one-half 6-oz. pkg.) Borden's Natural Swiss Cheese |
| 6 slices white sandwich bread | 1 egg |
| 2 slices cooked ham, about 1 1/8-inch thick | 1/4 cup homogenized milk |
| 4 to 6 slices cooked white chicken or turkey | 2 tablespoons new Danish margarine or butter |
| | Aunt Jane's Sweet Gherkin Pickles |

Spread butter or margarine evenly on one side of 1 bread slice. Top with 1 ham slice and one-half the chicken or turkey slices. Spread margarine evenly on both sides of second bread slice. Place over turkey layer. Top with 2 slices cheese. Spread third bread slice evenly with margarine on one side. Place over cheese. With a sharp knife, remove crust. Cut sandwich in half. Secure sandwich halves with wooden food picks. Repeat procedure for second sandwich. In a mixing bowl, combine egg and milk; beat together until well blended. Dip sandwich halves in egg mixture to coat. In a heavy skillet, melt 2 tablespoons margarine, or butter over medium heat. Brown sandwich halves evenly on both sides. Remove picks. Garnish with sweet gherkin pickles.

Shrimp Tartlets Party Success

A party thrives on conversation and the good foods you serve. What you feature on a menu helps add to the gala mood and certainly helps to create a lot of happy chatter, too!

The conversation prompters we have in mind are these petite shrimp tartlets. They're designed especially for party service and would be a dandy new addition to your usual offering of dips and crackers and colorful cheese trays.

The little crusts are prepared with a mix which cuts down the job of pastry-making, and the filling is really delicious and unusual. Tender pink shrimp are baked in a delicately seasoned egg custard mixture. Thyme, Tabasco and crisp-cooked bacon add extra flavor. You'll find the tiny shrimp pies wonderfully easy to fix; easier yet to eat!

Once baked, the tartlets make fragrant and colorful snacks for your guests. They can be served at an open house buffet, or they could introduce a meal as an appetizer teamed with zesty tomato juice cocktails.

Anything with shrimp is bound to be popular. But if you are looking for additional ideas for your holiday entertaining, why not serve plump scallops?

They are so good, battered and fried and served with a golden mustard sauce or peppery tomato dip. Or string the scallops on skewers with chunks of pineapple and banana. Then broil them for a few minutes, basting occasionally with a honey-lemon sauce. They're certain to help make your party a success.

LITTLE SHRIMP TARTLETS
1 package (9 1/4-ounce) pie crust mix
1 pound shrimp, cooked, cleaned and chopped-x
4 slices bacon, crisp-cooked and crumbled
2 eggs, slightly beaten

3/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon powdered thyme
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package. Roll very thin and cut with 2 3/4-inch cutter. Press pastry into 24 1 3/4 x 1-inch muffin pans. Put shrimp in pastry cups; sprinkle with bacon. Combine remaining ingredients and carefully pour over shrimp and bacon. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes or until set. Makes 24 tartlets.
x-If shrimp are small, they may be left whole.

Seasoning Tips Given

Finely chopped parsley and a bit of allspice are excellent seasonings for lamb patties or lamb loaf. The parsley is served on top as well as in the patties, but the allspice adds novel and different flavor when mixed with the meat.

Whole kernel corn, cabbage, lima or green beans take on new interest when seasonings include bacon drippings and-or bits of crumbled cooked bacon.

Smoked Pork For a Tasty Casserole

Start the preparation of casserole dishes the evening before, and dinner won't have to wait too long the next day.

With dried lima beans, cooking time is extensive. It need not get out of proportion, however, if a part of the preparation is done while you tidy the kitchen or do other household tasks during the evening.

Pork smoked shoulder rolls, with their flavor like ham, may or may not need simmering, depending upon which type they are.

PORK 'N LIMA CASSEROLE

2 to 4 pound smoked pork shoulder roll (butt)
1 pound dried lima beans
Water
1 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons molasses
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Wash beans, cover with four cups water and simmer one hour. Add smoked pork shoulder roll, onion and additional water to cover meat and beans. Cover tightly and simmer one hour. Turn meat and continue to simmer covered 45 minutes to one hour or until meat and beans are tender.

Remove shoulder roll and drain beans. Mix molasses, cornstarch, brown sugar, dry mustard, salt and pepper. Add to beans; stir until mixed. Place a layer of beans in a two and one-half quart casserole. Slice smoked pork shoulder roll and add a layer of sliced meat. Cover with remaining beans and top with remaining sliced meat. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 30 minutes. Six to eight servings.

Old World Goodness In Peach Dish

It's a wonderful feeling after the lazy days of summer and fall to get involved with real cooking again and fill the house with the fragrance of baking. In Cranberry Peach Kuchen old-world goodness combines with the shimmering gold of cling peach slices and tangy colorful cranberries. It's rich, but so good to eat you simply must be indulgent.

Cranberry Peach Kuchen

1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices
1 cup fresh cranberries
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups biscuit mix
2-3 cup milk
1 cup dairy sour cream
1-3 cup toasted slivered almonds

Drain peaches. Chop cranberries coarsely; mix with sugar, flour and cinnamon. Cut butter into biscuit mix in bowl. Add milk and stir to soft dough. Spread in greased 9-inch square pan. Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven 10 minutes. Remove from oven; reset oven temperature for 375 degrees (moderately hot). Arrange peach slices on top of partially baked dough. Blend sour cream into cranberry mixture. Spoon over peaches. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Let stand at least 15 minutes before cutting into squares.

Makes one (9-inch) kuchen.

Lasagne Provides Quick, Easy Meal

December twenty-first is not for being the shortest day of the year. But all days, around this time, seem too short. But with today's many short-cut convenience foods, getting a meal is made fairly simple.

Here for instance, is a recipe that is perfect for a shortened day. It is a savory Lasagne casserole that is quick to get ready and bake.

Lasagne, features a remarkable seasoning short-cut. Sumptuous flavor is added by way of a handy envelope of versatile onion soup mix. Stirred right in with the ground beef, it imparts a marvelous oniony-beefy flavor that makes this dish different and delicious.

With the main course, serve marinated green beans. The beans, together with some scallions or green onions are tossed with bottled golden Italian dressing. Add toasted slivered almonds for a nutty taste.

QUICK LASAGNE
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 envelope (1 1/2 oz.) Onion Soup Mix
3 cans (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 cup water
8 ounces broad noodles, cooked, drained
8 ounces Mozzarella cheese, sliced
Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. In large skillet, brown meat, stirring frequently. Stir in Onion Soup Mix, tomato sauce, and water. Cover; simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. In 2-quart oblong baking dish, alternate layers of noodles, meat sauce, and cheese, ending with cheese. Bake 15 minutes or until bubbling. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Remember Roast Rack

Remember the rack that is placed under the roast? That keeps the meat cut from sitting in drippings and juices. It also allows the dry heat to circulate around the meat cut or cook it evenly.

The only time a rack is not truly necessary under a roast is when a bone-in-rib roast is being cooked. The rib bones, in this case, form a natural rack for the roast.

Try Frosted Nougat Bars For Cool Day

As the weather turns cool and informal entertaining moves from the patio to the family room, always be prepared with a delicious sweet to serve with piping hot coffee or tea.

Frosted Nougat Bars are ideal. Chocolatey rich because they are made with chocolate milk and bits of semi-sweet chocolate, these bars are chock full of raisins, coconut and walnuts, making them something extra special.

To dress them up for company, home economists suggest frosting the bars with buttercream frosting and decorating them with walnut pieces.

FROSTED NOUGAT BARS
(Yield: 3 dozen)
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups chopped raisins
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
3 tablespoons water
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 eggs
1 cup chocolate milk
1/2 cup moist flaked coconut
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Frosting
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons cream
11 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Combine raisins, brown sugar, water, and butter in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until raisins soften.

Remove from heat. Stir in chocolate pieces. Cool slightly. Bat in eggs one at a time. Add dry ingredients alternately with chocolate milk. Stir in coconut and walnuts.

Pour into a greased 13x9x2-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

For frosting, combine butter and cream and heat until butter melts. Stir into confectioners' sugar. Add vanilla. Beat until right consistency to spread. Frost nougat loaf, decorate with coarsely broken walnuts, and cut into bars.

Exotic Salad Takes A Bit Of Doing

Here's an exotic salad that takes a bit of doing, but is worth the effort.

GRANADA SALAD
1 large celery root (celeriac), cooked, peeled and cubed
1/2 cup cooked French cut green beans
6 large radishes, thinly sliced
3 large fresh mushrooms, thinly sliced
1/2 carton (about 1 1/2 cups) cherry tomatoes, halved
1 bunch watercress, torn into springs
1 can (2 1/4 oz.) sliced ripe olives, drained
2 tablespoons minced chives
8 thin slices summer sausage, cut in julienne strips
1 head iceberg lettuce, quartered and torn into bite-size pieces
1/2 cup wine vinegar and oil dressing

Combine well chilled salad ingredients, except lettuce in large salad bowl. Place torn lettuce on top of chilled salad ingredients. When ready to serve toss lightly with wine vinegar and oil dressing.

Makes 6 to 8 dinner salads.

Wine vinegar and oil dressing.
1-3 cup wine vinegar (any flavor)
2-3 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/2 teaspoon seasoned pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon sugar

Combine all ingredients in a screw-top, pint-size jar. Shake thoroughly. Refrigerate before using.

Makes 1 cup.
1-3 cup salad oil and 1-3 cup olive oil may be used, if desired.

Try Adding Caraway Seed

Next time you are making meat patties from ground lamb, try adding a little caraway seed along with the usual salt and pepper.

Doelger Buildings Hearing Concluded

In a whirlwind session last week the Daly City council closed a public hearing on construction of 130 "Mediterranean style" apartments to be built near the Westmoor High School by Henry Doelger company.

Prior to construction of the $2 million complex, the council rezoned the area from single family residential to R-3 (apartments).

According to the builders, the apartments will provide a panoramic view of both San Francisco and parts of the ocean shoreline.

In other action, the council: Accepted the final report and recommendations of the advisory committee established to offer ideas for inclusion in the upcoming General Plan for the city. The report was forwarded to professional planning consultants Livingston and Blaney for information.

Approved use permits for erection of seven wall signs requested by Matthews TV and Appliance Mart at 6400 Mission Street.

Approved the installation of eight illuminated signs advertising individual shops at the Broadmoor Shopping Center at 2368-2396 Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Held over for further study a tentative map of Serramonte unit number 9 while approving a revised tentative map of Serramonte unit number 8.

Authorized execution of a contract with the SAFECO Insurance Company for city employees' life insurance policies.

Introduced ordinance number 676, amending the Fire Code zoning for Daly City. The new zoning will hopefully lower fire rates for homeowners in the areas affected once the map is accepted.

Declared a fire damaged residence at 49 Hillcrest Avenue a nuisance and started legal action to abate the nuisance.

D.C. Woman Is Burned

Mrs. Erma Heady, 47, suffered first degree burns of the face and neck last week. An oven apparently backfired in a Daly City motel room.

Firemen in Daly City said Mrs. Heady was cooking in apartment 22 of the Mission Bell Motel when the mishap occurred. She was treated at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, but was not admitted, according to a hospital spokesman.

New Brisbane Garbage Vote Shaping

An initiative petition calling for yet another election on Brisbane's garbage situation was being circulated last week by a leader of the city's anti-garbage faction.

Luman Drake, a leader in the Brisbane Citizens for Civic Progress organization and long an opponent of scavenger operations in the city, notified the council this week that he is circulating an initiative petition for an ordinance to set "minimum refuse disposal fee rates."

The ordinance would set a fee rate of $1.25 for each ton of garbage dumped in the city, or a minimum annual charge of $500,000 for scavenger operations, whichever proved higher.

Only about 120 signatures, 10 per cent of the registered voters, would be needed to force an election through the initiative petition procedure, and Drake is almost certain to obtain the necessary signatures, since more than 500 voters opposed garbage dumping in the city in a referendum last October.

April Vote Likely

The issue will likely be on the ballot for the April elections. In other developments, Mayor Dale With and members of the city council again postponed finalizing an agreement with the Sanitary Fill Co. for dumping privileges in the city.

John Larson, an attorney for the Sanitary Fill Co., objected to several provisions of the city's proposed contract agreement, notably a section which would require that the scavengers provide broad indemnity against all claims and damage suits against the city resulting from the agreement.

Larson said the indemnity section was much too broad, and the city "couldn't purchase this sort of insurance coverage at any price. This section could require that the scavenger firms pay for lawyers to oppose agreement."

He indicated that the scavengers consider the indemnity request "unacceptable" under any circumstances, and said the paragraph outlining the requirements could scuttle the entire agreement.

Discuss Alternatives

Councilmen discussed several alternatives to the indemnity arrangement Tuesday, including a $25,000 deductible clause for legal expenses in the event of litigation, but no final agreement was reached.

The council agreed to Larson's request for deletion of a section of the proposed agreement which would have required the scavenger firms to accept garbage from San Mateo County cities other than Brisbane.

This arrangement was a carryover from the scavengers' earlier agreement with the city. Larson said, before dumping operations were limited to the present 105-acre site.

$18,000 Fire In San Bruno, Gifts Burn

A spark from an electrical outlet ignited Christmas decorations then spread throughout the San Bruno home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fournier and their seven children last week, causing an estimated $18,000 to the Rollingwood area structure and $6,000 to contents.

None of the occupants were hurt.

San Bruno fire chief Herb Freitas said the Fourniers were getting ready to eat dinner at 5:40 p.m., when one of the children unplugged an electric train, with which he was playing.

When the youngster pulled the train's transformer plug from a wall socket near the Christmas tree in the Fournier living room at the rear of the wood frame house at 2131 Pinecrest Drive, sparks ignited decorations.

The fire, which Fournier attempted unsuccessfully to extinguish, quickly spread to the Christmas tree, then to furnishings in the living room.

From there, flames raged throughout the home — gutting and kitchen, Freitas said.

All three bedrooms, the bathroom and the hallway were heavily damaged by heat and smoke.

Freitas said that when Fournier's attempts to put out the blaze failed, he dispatched one of his children to a neighbor's home to call firemen.

All of the Fourniers and a pet dog left the flaming, hot structure without difficulty, although Fournier told Chief Freitas that the roaring fire and its heat were "intense" when he finally left.

Six trucks and over 30 paid and volunteers battled the fire for about 2½ hours.

Chief Freitas noted that he first spotted the fire, from its billowing smoke, from San Bruno Avenue — three-quarters of a mile to a mile away — shortly after receiving the alarm.

He said that despite the darkness, a person "didn't need the address, he just had to home in on the black smoke and the flames."

Two firemen received minor injuries fighting the blaze. Volunteer Jerry Gingold was treated ed but not admitted at Peninsula Hospital for smoke inhalation, while Capt. Lee Spivey's two cut fingers, only required departmental first-aid.

Two Named To CS Group

John Mackesy of Millbrae and Ray Colombo of San Bruno were appointed by the County Board of Supervisors last week to serve new four-year terms on the County Civil Service Commission.

Mackesy, of 649 Clearfield Drive, has served on the commission since January of 1960.

A native of Dublin, Ireland, Mackesy has been in industrial sales work for 33 years.

Colombo, of 1981 Glen Avenue, is the owner of the Peninsula Window Cleaning Company of South San Francisco.

Colombo, who is presently commission chairman, was appointed in January of 1964.

Terror for a 'Good Samaritan'

The good samaritan deed of a young East Palo Alto school teacher near Daly City last Thursday almost led to serious consequences, the sheriff's office reported today.

The teacher told deputies she had rented a horse from the Mar Vista Stables in Daly City and was riding back from San Francisco to return the horse when she came upon a "young, neat and clean man with horn rimmed glasses" sitting along side the bridge path.

"I'm hurt," the youth, about 19 or 20, appealed. "I sprained my ankle."

When the youth asked if she would allow him to get on the horse and ride to the stable for help, the woman said she allowed him to mount the horse.

As soon as he got on the horse, however, the 25-year-old teacher said the man placed his arm around her and pushed a knife against her back.

"All right, lady, you have a knife in your back. Get off," the woman said the man suddenly let go, jumped over a cliff and ran off down the beach.

A search by sheriff's deputies and police from Daly City and San Francisco failed to turn up any trace of the would be rapist.

Police said both the car and the motorcycle were traveling north on Herman Street. The motorcyclist pulled to the right side of the road, then turned back into the path of the automobile as Murphy attempted to pass.

He 'Dreamed Up' Story Of Stabbing-Victim

The victim of a near-fatal stabbing, occurring 2 weeks ago, named his attackers Wednesday following his release from County General Hospital.

Charles Urnst, 22, had originally told Daly City detectives he received his wounds at the hand of a strongarm robber outside a local bowling alley but since then he has changed his story.

He said he had "dreamed up" the strongarm robbery story after his attackers had threatened to harm his mother if he told the true story.

Urnst was found lying in bed at 200 Park Plaza Drive by his mother shortly after 9 p.m. Friday with five stab wounds in the abdomen. Police were summoned and the victim was rushed to Mary's Help Hospital.

Upon his release yesterday from the hospital, Urnst named a neighbor in the same apartment building as his attacker along with an inmate from the San Mateo County jail who had been released on good behavior for the Christmas holiday.

The victim told police Vincent Hogan, 23, of apartment 24, 200

Park Plaza Drive, and Robert Ryan, 23, broke into his apartment following a heated argument on the telephone and began "cutting him up" with a switchblade knife.

Police arrested Hogan at his home Wednesday. His alleged accomplice in the stabbing was located in a cell back at County Jail.

Police were continuing their investigation of the matter and did not disclose what started the argument between the two.

Major Building

291 New Plants In San Mateo County

Year-end figures released today by Henry Bostwick, Jr., general manager of the San Mateo County Development Association, revealed a total of 291 new plants and expansions in San Mateo County during 1967 for a capital investment of $66,239,400. These figures were a marked increase over the previous ten-year average of 239 facilities and expansions with a dollar investment of $44,200,000.

The major building was again concentrated in the industrial park areas of the county, the major valuation being in the Crocker Industrial Park, Brisbane, and Cabot, Cabot and Forbes Industrial Park, South San Francisco, with Bohannon Industrial Park, Menlo Park, closely following insofar as dollar investment is concerned. Not reflected in these figures is the over $20 million building program at the San Francisco International Airport during 1967. These announcements have been made in the previous year and dollar valuation was included at that time.

Development Association President, Ronald L. Campbell, stated: "The efforts of the San Mateo County Development Association are often not recognized by the community and the value of its work certainly extends far beyond the figures released by our office today. Not taken into consideration is the huge capital investment placed within our new structures, and obviously the payrolls are reflected in the economy of not only San Mateo County but the entire San Francisco Bay Area. During 1967 our program placed more emphasis on the environmental factors which industry demands of a community before making a capital investment. The association, with the help of other groups, will continue to maintain the liveability factor and still bring a strong economy to the area."

Directors Will Be Honored

Sabbath Services at Congregation B'nai Israel, January 5 will be held in honor of the new directors who assumed their positions on January 1.

Services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Jeno Friedmann.

A reception in honor of new members will be held at the Templehouse on Saturday, January 13 from 5 to 7:00 p.m. Chairman Henry Baum particularly invites long standing members of the congregation to attend to welcome the new members.

Installation of officers dinner and ceremonies will take place on January 14 at the House of Prime Rib in San Francisco.

Youths Arrested After Speed Chase

Three Daly City youths were arrested following a high speed car chase through crowded city streets last week.

The trio was spotted on Mission Street in Daly City before 7:30 a.m. by patrolman Martin Lively driving a late model sedan reported stolen three days ago in San Bruno.

Lively pursued the car up

Mission Street at what was described as "top speeds" for the condition of the streets, and through narrow neighborhood streets for more than a mile, successfully stopping the car on Vista Grande Avenue.

The officer apprehended one of the occupants of the car, Marvin Smith, 18, of 109 Westlake Avenue, but his two alleged companions fled the scene on foot.

They were later found by other officers hiding in the immediate area and arrested for auto theft.

The pair were identified as Robert Killian, 19, of 424 Chester Street, and the alleged driver of the stolen car, Enrico Cerri, 19, of 28 West Cavour Street, all of Daly City.

Five Are Hurt In D.C. Crash

A Daly City woman and her daughter and three members of a Pacifica family were injured at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday in a three-car accident on Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City.

Highway patrolmen said traffic was backed up at the Eastmoor Drive off-ramp and one of the cars that was stopped, driven by Mrs. Nan Hallford, 41, of 4 Eastmoor Drive, was hit from behind by a station wagon driven by David L. Santos, 32, year-old merchant seaman of 140 Gateway Drive, Pacifica. Mrs. Hallford's sedan was pushed into the rear of a third car.

Mrs. Hallford, who suffered a neck injury, was admitted to Mary's Help Hospital for observation, as was her daughter, Elizabeth, 12, who sustained multiple bruises.

Mrs. Dora Santos was released after treatment of an arm injury. Also injured in the crash were her daughter, Lorena, 11, and son, David, 3.
